♥ Phew It's over, it's over. It feels like this has been my first honest work in a long time (laughs).

By the way, the picture above is of my youngest parakeet, Ren the Sun Conure, however, I'm not bullying him. He does this on his own in the palm of my hand he'll flip himself over so his stomach is facing up (laughs) and play. He's quite a weird, cute and interesting guy (^^)

Translation Notes

- Kouchou-sense

OK I had to mull over how to handle this a bit. Kouchou-sensei means Principal. Kouchou = principal. sensei = teacher [but is more like a formality in this case instead of actually meaning "teacher"]. What I'm saying here is that her name is not "Kouchou." I'm not going to have the students and Shigeru address her as "Principal" because it's awkward in English and I'm not going to have them call her "Mrs. Yasa" because that's not the way translate. This takes place in Japan, not America, where it would be more common to do so.

So! Here's what you might be thinking: "You only used Principal in the last chapter and you're still using Principal as well as "kouchou-sense" in this chapter! You're messing with my mind!!" Right? OK, maybe not to that extent. Anyway, I will be using Kouchou-sensei when people address her, and "Principal" when people are talking about her. Get used to it! It's only for 4 chapters anyway! [For those of you who got confused by my excess babble, just focus on the underlined part.]

- that *&^%$@# bulletin board on page 7

HATE YOU! RAWR!!!! DIE DIE DIE!!!!

T_T I really suck when it comes to names with no furigana. Kanji can be pronounced so many different ways~ And then there's the part at the bottom [of the board], where the stupid speech bubble covers it right in the middle. RAWR! I hope I did well there. It's so annoying when you're missing the center of a sentence, especially since Japanese sentence structure is so different from English. >> those of you who end up downloading copies of my script once this volume is finished can easily see that I got frustrated there. :o

make no apologies for my babble! XD

Usual thanks to Sekhouta, Saru, Levi, Ookami-kyouda, and Continuum for any translation help!

---Bonus Pages---

Hello, hello, it's Miyauchi (^^)
Thank you for purchasing volume 3 of Akkan Baby
Well .. this is really more like a continuation, you see. To tell the truth, this is my first serialization that has continued past the originally planned 1 year's [running in the magazine for 1 year] length. I've been drawing manga for over 10 years, but I guess I could say I'm not really living (^^.
But at first, I said "OK, let's say I'll write 3 or 4 chapters for this serialization"
And then. . The Man in Charge: "Hmmmm, it seems like 6 chapters would be the best can you do it?"
Me: "Hmmmm. .. if it's 6 chapters..... I can somehow manage it.... (^^;"
Man in Charge: "You know, it really doesn't seem to be over, does it.... Why don't we do 10 chapters...?"
Me: "Eh? Ah OK I guess so, it really isn't finished at 6 chapters . (^^;"
Man in Charge: Hmmmmmmmmm. . I wonder if you could do 12 chapters...."
Me: " . . . . . (^^;;;

Translation Notes

◇ Principal Squadron Jersey Man [or Jersey Pink]
uh... yeah. Yuki's just... weird. So if you came to the translation notes looking for some sort of explanation of this joke... sorry. >.> as far as i can tell, he's making her out as some sort of super hero..... ahhh.... i never can understand the workings of Yuki's mind... @_@ i fear for the baby....

◇ MUNI!
XD Isn't he cute? ^^" They really named him that.... Anyway, for the curious ones, here's the info on Muni-chan's name XD kanji: 無二 The first kanji [mu] means "none," the second kanji [ni] means "two." When you combine the two kanji, the meaning is "peerless" or "matchless"

I really hope you've enjoyed reading Akkan Baby. I've really enjoyed translating it! ...Though I kinda wish that you could see more of Yuki and Shigeru's [and Muni's! XD] "adventures," but I also think that the manga had a very good ending.

At the time that I write this (09/21/04), I am already planning what manga I will translate next after Akkan Baby. And of course, it's got to be another Miyauchi Saya manga! XD Barring any unforseen circumstances, I plan on translating her latest manga (went on sale 09/13/04 in Japan), Kimi no Kokoro, Boku no Kokoro [Your Heart, My Heart [from now on shortened to KimiBoku, lol]]. I don't have it yet, so I can't say much about it, but from what I do know, it's a story involving therapy dogs, and will be at least 2 volumes long. ^^" Of course, I still need to buy the manga first [>.> and finish those last 2 looooong chapters of Eien no With XD]. Look forward to it, and Thank You for Reading This Manga If it Ever Gets Licensed, I Greatly Urge You to Buy it!!! Buy the Original if You See it!! XD

>.> Also... I wanna thank Seki for giving me a whole bunch of songs from 19, a Japanese band. I love them XD. I'd been listening to 19 while I translated this entire last volume~ How shall I put it... when I listen to the music, I can feel a lot of the songs "fit" with Miyauchi's manga. The songs give me such a great feeling. XD especially listening to "Kuma-jiichan" while I translated Muni's birth, lol.

Err, anyway, I'm done babbling I guess. And again, I make no apologies for the babble! XD Usual thanks to Sekihoutai, Saru, Levi, Ookamikyoudai and Continuum for any translation help!
